ONGC drills water and gas injector wells, the purpose of injector wells are for maintenance of reservoir pressure. This also help in production enhancement. Hence, for water and gas injector wells production profiles are not envisaged unlike producer wells, moreover as there is no production from these wells, techno economics and production mining plans are not being worked out as it is not required.

ONGC has planned to drill two such development locations as gas injectors KSDB and KSDC in Dayang Reserve Forest of Golaghat District.
