Opportunities

The Manufacturing sector is critical for the economy's growth as it employs 12.0 percent of the country's labour force as well as provides a transitional opportunity to the labour force in agriculture. In addition, the sector has a multiplier effect for job creation in the services sector. According to the National Manufacturing Policy 2011, every job created in the manufacturing sector creates two-three additional jobs in related activities.

Since we are also a manufacturing unit, we would be adding to the economic growth and would generate jobs not only for the people employed by us but also for people working in different sectors namely transportation, finance, accounts, etc.
