

Visited the diversion area on 08/09/2016, the area is devoid of trees and lantana infested. and is near to the tribal hamlet which is bare minimum for the basic need of the tribal families residing in this tribal hamlet . I recommend this project positively if the project proponents lay the transmission lines under ground and the power house site is secured from the elephant invasion as it is the habitat of elephants.

This project should only be approved, if the project proponent takes up the laying of transmission line underground.
