FCA Clearance for Power Projects.

Sir,

I am directed to say that several Hydro Electric Power Projects both large and small are proposed to be set up in H.P. To develop these projects expeditiously, it is important that various clearances for these projects are obtained in time so that the State starts obtaining its share of additional power at the earliest. The Power Department has pointed out in a meeting that the Forest Department is insisting on Techno Economic Clearance of the project before case under FCA is processed and forwarded to the Govt. of India. In a Power project, various statutory clearances (such as under FCA) are required, and these have to be taken up in parallel, as a sequential approach will lead to huge delays. The TEC and FCA can both be done in parallel, and the forest should not be made a pre-condition for processing the FCA clearance.

You are, therefore, requested to direct all CF's/DFO's dealing with FCA clearance for power projects not to withhold processing of FCA clearance cases for want of Techno Economic Clearance. For the "In Principle" clearance the TEC may not be insisted upon, it may however be made a condition for the issue of "Final Clearance".

Yours faithfully,

Joint Secretary (Forests) to the Government of Himachal Pradesh.
