Ref. No.: No. FCA/1980/156/2019/4733 dated 14-02-2020

Respected Sir,

In response to the subject above, an objection has been raised by your department that "the certificate in connection with the case as obtained from the Punjab Pollution Control Board" has expired. Therefore, it was said that the case should be resend for their NOC to the concerned department.

I discussed with the department of Punjab Pollution Control Board in this regard, who instructed me that NOC is issued only once in a time. Hence, the certificate which was issued by the Punjab Pollution Control Board on dated 27-06-2017 will not be renewed again and again; and there is no validity of the NOC as issued by the department.

Therefore, the NOC as already issued should be considered as valid and the same is being sent to you for your information and take further necessary actions.

Thanking you.

Yours Faithfully,
