D/A examine all the papers and put-up list of land hold by the company within 4-week based on the papers available. Order to be passed on 13.05.2013.

Sam
R.O. empowered
u/s. 14T(3) of W.B.L.R Act

08/13.05.13

The case is taken-up to-day for Order.

None on behalf of the company is present today.

Examined the list of the land schedule held by the company as prepared by D/A and verified it with other documents.

It is observed that the company is holding 226.26 acres land as per available documents and submission of papers of the company.

The total land held by the company is shown in schedule 'A' under the heading of "Total land schedule"- as annexed.

The company has submitted no option to retain land up to ceiling.

As per sec.14M(1)(e) of WBLR Act, the ceiling area for the company is 7.00 standard Hector, which is equal to non-irrigated land area as $(7.00 \times 1.4 \times 2.471) = 24.22$ acres. Thus the ceiling area available to the company is 24.22 acres. Clearly it appears from the schedule 'A' held by the company excess ceiling. The company has not shown its willingness to submit any option for retention of land upto ceiling limit. For the sake of social justice, I am of the opinion that the proceeding to be disposed off today without further delay.

Hence, I allow the company to hold land upto ceiling i.e. 24.22 acres which is detailed in the schedule 'B', suomoto, under the heading of "Retained Land Schedule" and which is also part of this proceedings.

Schedule 'A' minus schedule 'B' i.e. $(226.26 - 24.22) = 202.04$ acre of land, being over and above ceiling, is declared as vested in the state free from all incumbrances and is detailed in schedule 'C' under the heading of "Vested Land Schedule".

As the company have already been allowed to hold land upto the ceiling, hence, in any stage if it is found the company is/was holding any land in anywhere of West Bengal, which is not included in this vesting proceeding, then there will be no bar to vest the excess land in the state by the appropriate authority. The proceeding is thus disposed off.

D/A please inform all accordingly for next course of action as per provision of ~~land~~ law.
