Notes
Heights are in metres and above Indian mean sea level.
Contours are approximate.
A station height, e.g., 100, represents the approximate height, in metres, between the top and bottom of a steep slope.
The numerical values shown along roads, railways and canals are shown in short type, e.g., '2' where the distance between stations is short, and in long type, e.g., '100' where the distance is long.
The triangulated & traverse heights and contours in this sheet, have not been adjusted to the heights of the spot-levelled bench-marks and may not be strictly in accordance with them.
Contour lines and generalised roads in this sheet are generally reliable in our opinion. Permission to use these along roads is required from the irrigation authorities.
The area adjoining the Ganga River is liable to change owing to constant fluctuation in the course of the river.
Contours, shown dry in this area, usually contain water from July to December.
The district and sub-district boundaries in the Ganga and Yamuna Rivers follow the main deep water channels and will change with the fluctuations of these channels.
Forest names and sub-boundaries have not been shown for want of reliable information.
