

(iv) Justification for locating the project in forest area.

As much emphasis is being laid by the populous government on infrastructural development in the state especially in the tourism sector, the new road is essential for the future development of the adjoining rural areas. The forest area required for the project happens to fall within the first kilometer of the new road and since there is no alternate take off point, the forest area cannot be avoided.