

Impact of Current proposal in terms of section 29 and/or section 35(6) of Wildlife
Protection Act , 1972

The above project violates section 35(6) of the Wildlife Protection Act, 1972 as the zero point (10m away from RF) to 500m of the canal project is deemed to be a reserve forest as it shows direct and indirect signs of tiger, leopard, elephants and Indian Guar and is a plantation area of the social forestry division of KMTR circle. The canal project violates section 29, as Ramanadhi reservoir receives its water supply from the sanctuary.
